NEW PRESIDENT LIONS INTERNATIONAL

Herbert C. Petry, Jr., Carizzo Springs, Texas, is the new president of The International Association of Lions Clubs, (Lions International). He was elected by unanimous vote at the 33rd annual convention of the Association which closed at the Chicago Stadium July 20. Petry succeeds Walter C. Fisher, Queenston, Ontario, Canada.

The convention concluded one of the most successful years in the history of Lions International, according to the report made by Melvin Jones, Chicago, Illinois, Secretary-General and founder of the Association. He reported the addition of 806 new Lions Clubs and 21,415 men to the roster of the Association during the twelve-month period ended June 30, 1950, for a total of 8,055 clubs and 402,841 members. He stated also that during the fiscal year Lions Clubs were established in two additional countries: England and Denmark. Lions International, he added, is the largest, strongest and most active service club organization in the world, with Lions Clubs in 28 countries on five continents.

THE WEATHER—

Cooler weather prevailed over the weekend but clear skies and higher temperatures returned this week.

Crops are feeling the effect of the hot dry weather and some burning is reported.

From the sale of farm products, Canada's farmers realized $2,409,165,000 cash income in 1949, about three times the 1940 total and just $40,000,000 less than in the peak year of 1948.

With The District Agriculturist Hugh Michael

Control Bang's Disease

One of the important aspects in aiming for the eradication of Bang's disease of cattle is that humans may become infected and develop undulant fever. Dr. E. E. Ballantyne, Director of Veterinary Services, Alberta Department of Agriculture advises that there has been several cases diagnosed in humans in Alberta during 1950. He points out that people can become infected by drinking raw milk from through cuts on the hands or arms when handling such animals.

Proper pasteurization will kill the bacteria, rendering the milk safe for human consumption, but there is a lot of milk used on farms that is not pasteurized. A blood test of milk cows by a veterinarian will determine whether they are infected with Bang's disease or not. This is a sound procedure where raw milk is used.

Dr. Ballantyne says the solution to the problem is to eradicate Bang's disease from the cattle population. The main weapon for achieving this goal is calfhood vaccination coupled with good herd management. An outstanding example was a report published this year on the results of eight years of calfhood vaccination in the University of Alberta herd. Through good herd management and vaccination of all heifer calves between the ages of 4 to 8 months the disease has been successfully controlled.

No cattleman should delay in contacting his veterinarian in order to make arrangements to have the heifer calves vaccinated. It takes four or five years to build up a Bang's resistant herd. Now is the time to start. The wise buyer is demanding cows and heifers vaccinated as calves. There is a considerable demand for these Bang's vaccinated cattle in Alberta at present.

New Town Water Well Tests 47 Gallons Minute

Assurance that Vulcan will have a plentiful supply of water for the immediate needs of the town was given last week, when a new well on the west side of town, near the Armouries, was completed and gave a flow on 24 hour test of 47 gallons per minute.

The well was drilled by Western Water Wells Ltd. of Calgary and water was first struck at a depth of 45 feet. The flow at this level was 19 gallons per minute, considered insufficient, so drilling continued and water was struck at 138 feet and again at 156 feet. Drilling stopped at 170 feet and the upper strata of water at the 45 ft. depth was sealed off. Water will be drawn from the 138- and 156 ft. levels through 6 inch casing.

The 24 hour test at a flow of 47 gallons per minute in no way affected the other two wells which presently supply the town system and the water from the new well appears to be of exceptionally good quality.

The two wells now in use have a combined capacity of 60 gals. per minute—38 gals. per minute from the well near the elevators and 22 from the other well—supplying over 300 business and residential connections.

Gorbous Leading Hitter In Big Four Baseball League

(From The Calgary Herald)
Glen (Extra Base) Gorbous, former Vulcan baseballer, is in top spot in the individual batting race in the Big Four Baseball League, it was revealed July 28 when official statistics were released by loop president W. R. Irwin of Calgary.

The former third sacker, who now is one of the best outfielders in the loop and capably holds down the centrefield spot for Purity 99ers of Calgary, is hitting at a fancy .386 average. He replaced Bob Lillis of Edmonton Eskimos as the top man, despite the fact that in the past two weeks he slipped 12 points. In the last release Lillis was hitting .400 while Gorbous was two less. Lillis dropped to fourth spot with .379.

Second to The Purity star is Second to The Purity star is monoton Dodgers, who is hitting only one percentage point lower than Gorbous. Jerry Seaman, hurler and utility player of the leading Edmonton Eskimos, holds down third spot.

Gorbous is not only setting the pace in individual hitting but he also has the most home runs and has hit the most doubles. Dave Brookie of Eskimos leads in the triples department with six. Cliff Johnston, Eskimo rightfielder, still leads the important runs batted in parade with 52, six more than Ryan.

Junior Camp At Waterton Park

From July 14 to July 22, fifty-six girls the ages of 10 and 11, from Lethbridge, High River, and Calgary regions gathered at Canyon Church Camp, on the Red Rock Road, in Waterton Lakes National Park, for their Explorer camp.

Under the direction of Mrs. O. H. Rollis the program included the following: Morning worship; flag raising, sing songs, Bible study, interest groups, handicraft, hikes, swimming, dramatics, group games, campfire, evening vespers. There is a dining pavilion and workroom, cabins to sleep in, and an open playground. Running water with showers on hand. Among the campers were Cleo Robinson, and Cassie Graham, from from Vulcan. Miss Delight Mannen was one of the six group leaders; in addition there were kitchen staff and a nurse and camp mother. Mr. Rollis was business manager of the camp.

Cleo Robinson was awarded the prize for the best Bible Study work done in her group.

This camp was one of eight camping periods held on this site in 1950. And this site is one of about a dozen Presbytery or district camp sites operated by the United Church during the summer months in Alberta. The provincial campaign for leadership

Official Opening Of New Garage

A large number of Vulcan and district residents visited the big Richardson & Gould garage on Saturday last for the official opening.

Free ice cream was handed out to all children and adults received tickets to a free picture show and dance in the L.O.O.F. hall. Many new models of 1950 Dodge cars and trucks were on display and the remodelled front of the building and new parts department drew many compliments.

Richardson & Gould, who operate the Dodge garage in Nanton, recently purchased this business in Vulcan from Allen & Bride. Vulcan manager is Bill Richardson, who has purchased the Oliver Reid residence and will be moving his wife and three children here shortly.

Vulcan Pioneer Reaches Age 90

William Hill, a former rancher and early pioneer of the Buffalo Hill district, north-east of Vulcan, celebrated his 90th birthday on July 29 at his home in Victoria, B.C.

Since his retirement in 1935, Mr. Hill made his home at Long Beach, Cal., until 1939 when he and Mrs. Hill moved to Victoria. He is still keenly interested in the growth of Southern Alberta.

Two sons, Bill and Robert, live near Vulcan. Another son, Frank, lives in California, and a daughter, Mrs. D. R. M. Shouldice, is a Calgary resident.

Pretty Wedding At United Church

RIVETT — FRENCH
The Vulcan United Church was the scene of a pretty wedding on July 29 when Lorraine Bernice, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John L. French of Vulcan, became the bride of Merle Rivett of Wilkie, Sask. Rev. O. H. Rollis officiated.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride chose a floor-length gown of white satin with lace inserts and lily point sleeves. The neckline was studded with seed pearls. Her floor-length veil was caught with a coronet of pearls and she carried a cascade bouquet of red roses tied with bows of white satin. Her only ornament was a two-strand pearl necklace, a gift from the groom.

The ceremony was performed before an arch of sweet peas and baby's breath. The bride's only attendant was Miss Eleanor Hyslop of Vulcan, who chose a floor-length gown of pink taffeta with matching picture hat and gloves. She carried a nosegay of pink and white carnations.

The groom was attended by Bruce Weatherhead of Lac La Biche, and ushers were Dale French and Elwood Mensinger. Mrs. Gladys Buehler of Vulcan was organist and during the signing of the register played "I Love You Truly."

Mr. and Mrs. French assisted the bride and groom in receiving the thirty guests who attended the reception held at the bride's home following the ceremony. The bride's table was centred with a three-tiered wedding cake flanked with pink and white streamers and matching carnations.

For the honeymoon, a trip to Banff and other points, the bride chose a teal suit with white accessories. On their return the couple will reside at Weyburn, Sask.

Out-of-town guests at the wedding were Mr. R. Evans of Lac La Biche, Mr. James French, grandfather of the bride, and Mr. and Mrs. Fred French and daughter Janice of Strasburg, Sask. Mr. and Mrs. E. G. Paris and daughter Kay of Montney, B.C. training is at Kasota Beach, Sylvan Lake.

At present at the Canyon Church camp the Intermediate girls are in session. The Junior boys' camp (10 and 11 years of age) will be held August 9-19. Any boys interested in attending may apply through Rev. O. H. Rollis, of Vulcan.

UNICEF Goes to School in the Tyrol

A nun delegates a young "waiter" to help her serve bowls of soup—an extra on the schoolchildren's menu, in Mayrhofen, Austria—made possible by help from the United Nations International Children's Emergency Fund (UNICEF). The children are served their extra lunch each day at an inn operated by the mayor of the village.

Sees Increased Sale Canadian Goods in United Kingdom

(By Bank of Commerce)

Canada can expect to sell more goods in the near future to the United Kingdom and the British West Indies. This forecast occurs in the current issue of The Canadian Bank of Commerce Monthly Commercial Letter. The gold and dollar reserves of the Sterling Area have improved recently, so that there will probably be some lowering of the barriers against imports, announced in London last September.

Business conditions in the United States are currently buoyant. This has its effect on Canadian business, since the two countries are each other's best customer. As forecast by many at the turn of the year, Canada's economy has continued to function at fairly high levels in relation to previous years.

Looking ahead for the next six months, the effects of the Korean conflict on Canada's well-being are difficult to assess. The same is true of the coming trade conference at Torquay, England. In addition, many segments of Europe's economy are moving out of a deficit position into one of surpluses. Thus the market that existed there right after World War II for Canadian goods is becoming competitive.

From January to May inclusive this year, Canada imported slightly more merchandise than she exported—for the first time since 1933. Exports to, and imports from the United States were at an all time high. However, the dollar value of Canadian exports to the United Kingdom dropped substantially in the first quarter of the current year compared with the same period in 1949. One would expect that devaluation of the Pound would have led to materially larger imports from England, but this was not the case.

The Bank's index of industrial activity stood at 162 (1937 = 100) for June, up 4 points from March and April and May. The June figure suggests an improvement all round and reflects the generally stable economic conditions in Canada during the first half of 1950. Crop conditions vary but prospects, generally, are fair to good for field crops. Harvest of tree fruits is expected to be well below last year's, specially in British Columbia. Exports of beef cattle to the United States were almost double those for the same period last year. Farm cash incomes in the first quarter of this year were down slightly compared with the same period in 1949.

Since 1935 output of Canadian newsprint has grown from 3 million tons a year to 5 million at the present time, an increase of about 64 per cent. During the same period United States newsprint production increased about 5 per cent.

The housing boom in Canada and the United States has carried on into 1950 and has created a strong demand for Canadian lumber. Prices for lumber have climbed also, and the effect on housing in Canada has been felt to some degree.

All phases of the mining industry are very active. With the exception of nickel, mineral production in the first four months of 1950 was substantially higher than in the same months last year. Non-ferrous metal prices have declined quite sharply from last year, as have exports of them.

Construction contracts awarded at $586 million, were $90 million higher than during the first half of 1949, with business contracts showing the largest percentage increase.

In the first week of April 434,000 persons, 8½ per cent of the Canadian labour force, were unemployed, the seasonal trend being aggravated by an unusually severe winter, particularly on the West Coast. But by 15th June the figure for unemployed persons was down to 220,400, a little over 4 per cent of the labour force. Average hourly earnings reached a record high in May.

M.D. Plans Construction 24-bed Nursing Home

To Be Located Adjacent To Present Hospital

According to information from officials of the Municipal District of Vulcan No. 29, definite action is being taken by the Council to proceed with the preliminary work in getting plans of the Convalescent Nursing Home which is proposed to be erected in Vulcan if arrangements can be made to obtain grants from the Dominion and Provincial Governments which are available for this type of hospital service.

It is expected that a tentative set of plans will be ready for consideration at the meeting of the Municipal Council to be held next week. The building will have a capacity of 24 beds, 8 single rooms and 8 double rooms together with the necessary service rooms, therapy rooms, and sitting and recreation rooms. Staff quarters will also be provided. The site has been acquired from the Town of Vulcan and the new building will be located on the grounds adjacent to the present hospital in order that patients who require active hospital treatment may be readily moved into the Municipal Hospital. The general appearance of the new building will resemble the hospital and will be modern and fireproof.

No tentative date has been set for the commencement of construction as it will take some time to obtain approval of the plans and other details incidental to providing a building to meet the requirements.

Appreciation to Flood Donors

Mayor W. D. Allan has received the following letter of appreciation from H. W. Manning, General Chairman of the Manitoba Flood Relief Fund, and its contents will be of interest to the many residents of Vulcan and district who contributed to the fund.

"To the Mayors of Canada:—

The hearts of the people of Manitoba are overflowing with gratitude. The sympathy and generous support of people everywhere have been most heartening and helpful. On the closing date the Fund stood at seven and a half millions, made up of contributions from an estimated one million donors. While further monies will still come in, this amount will assure substantial aid to the individuals and to the communities throughout the widespread flood area.

We would ask you to convey to the people of your City our grateful thanks for the sympathy and support they so readily extended. We would have you convey, also, the assurance that this Fund will be administered with due regard to the spirit of their giving and to the responsibilities of our trusteeship.

Already some five thousand applications have been received. A corps of appraisers follow these up closely and payments of an interim nature or in full are made with promptness. Grateful expressions from householders are coming in daily and we can only suggest to the kind citizens of your City the very great relief which their assistance has brought to those in need.

Official receipts are going forward to every named donor and, although it has been impossible to keep abreast of this task, it is hoped that we will shortly be up-to-date.

Only two months ago we took the liberty of appealing to you and your people and, now, on behalf of the Manitoba Flood Relief Committee and the victims of the catastrophe here in Manitoba, we send this expression of sincere appreciation and heartfelt gratitude."

POOL SUPERINTENDENT RETIRES

Harry L. McDonald, who has been superintendent of Division "C," Alberta Pool Elevators, for 22 years, has retired. Last week a dinner was held in his honor by senior officials of the Wheat Pool. He was presented with a picnic hamper, fully equipped, and a travelling case. The Pool elevator agents of Southern Alberta also presented him with a gold watch and a fountain pen.

Midway Propane Making Survey

A representative of Midway Propane is in town this week to make a survey of the potential number of users of propane gas under the proposed scheme for an underground bulk distribution system. The project is now before the Public Utilities Board in Edmonton for consideration and, if approved, will again come before the town council to be passed in the form of a by-law. The project must be approved by a sixty-six and two-thirds majority vote of the ratepayers of the town.

Vacation School August 11 to 16

Under the auspices of the Anglican and United Churches in Vulcan, the annual summer Church Vacation School will be held in the churches August 11-12, 13, 14, 15, 16 of this year. Assembly will be in the United Church School room, and then classes will divide for the day's program. The program will consist of singing, Bible study, stories and discussion, dramatization, worship, and handicraft. All girls and boys of the district are invited to this School.

Session will commence at 9:00 a.m. each morning, and will continue in the afternoon. Children from the country will bring their lunches, and so a double program will be given each day.

Of special interest this year, is the Saturday holding of the school. Girls and boys who cannot attend the regular sessions are invited to come to the Saturday classes, either or both morning and afternoon.

The closing will take place on the afternoon of Wednesday, July 16th. This will take the form of a picnic and presentation of a program of work taken and handwork done during the five days of the School.

Dr. JOHN H. GARDEN

Dr. Garden, principal of Mount Royal College will be at Vulcan, Fri., Aug. 11th, 3 to 5 p.m., at the home of Rev. O. H. Rollis.

The purpose of his visit is to meet with prospective students and their parents to supply further information and answer questions about the courses offered at Mount Royal College.

There courses include Commercial and Business training, First Year University and all High School subjects.

There are many benefits in taking Commercial and High School courses at Mount Royal. Through the use of the residences out-of-town students have the opportunity of associating with specially qualified supervisors and students' councilors, and benefit by their sympathetic guidance. In the classrooms their academic training is in the hands of fully qualified instructors found only in the larger centres. Modern facilities including well stocked libraries and a new gymnasium provide the best possible environment. To University students Mount Royal offers the chance of taking their first year close to their homes.

During the past several years Mount Royal College has had a steadily increasing enrollment. This year advance enrollments are especially heavy and students who might be interested will be wise to apply early.

What Is Communism?

There is a great preponderance of public opinion in Canada in favor of some further action by the government authorities against those who openly advocate Communist doctrines in Canada, and particularly those who make it quite clear that, in the event of an unhappy conflict between this country and Russia, they would be on the Russian side of the argument.

There are plenty of people like this. There are university professors, school teachers, labor leaders, and quite frankly say as did a French scientist who has been recently fired by the government, that they would not support their own nation against Russia in war.

The real difficulty is that this is not all that there is to Communism. Provided a Communist does not go to the point of announcing that he would fight for Russia, it is difficult to find the point at which Socialism, or even welfare state ideas end and Communism begins. Anyone who believes that the major industries of this country should be taken over by the state, anyone who holds that the state should redistribute wealth completely, anyone who believes that the state should permanently control prices and wages, anyone who feels that the state should have the power to direct men and women to particular occupations is a Communist, in the sense that he has accepted the theories of the founders of Communism.

The man who preaches these ideas may say that he is a Conservative, or a Liberal, or a Socialist, but he is preaching Communist doctrine. He holds much of the Communist faith—even if he does not go to the point of announcing that he would fight for Russia against Canada.

It is very difficult to see how the law which Mr. Drew has been suggesting, to make Communism illegal, would be enforced in Canada. There should be some law in Canada, rigidly enforced, to put in jail those who openly attack their own country on behalf of another nation, which is at present coming close to threatening war. The point is, however, that it is not going to be possible to catch them as Communists. They will have to be caught as traitors.—C.W.N.A.

We Nearly Died Laughing

This business of laughing must be getting pretty serious when someone tries to promote a national "Laugh Week." In fact laughing must be getting to an all time low when something like a week devoted to bigger and better belly laughs has to be organized.

Just how does one wake up on the morn of the official "Laugh Week" and begin to laugh. No one has briefed us so we are casting around for a few ideas to stimulate an all-out effort in the direction of good humor.

Somehow laughing seems to be a much more difficult proposition that it was some years ago. About the best most of our acquaintances seem to do is to smile wryly over the inconsistencies uttered by a public figure, to snicker cynically at a movie, to giggle hysterically when primed with liquid refreshment.

Even the comics are anything but comical. We defy anyone to laugh today at the comic strips with the possible exception of Dagwood and Blondie. Every one of the Milton Caniff heroes is in a tight spot: Skizix and Corky are both weighed down with the dreary struggle of making a living; Little Orphan Annie is battling it out with a Russian saboteur.

Radio does little to raise the level of laughter to the point where it spills over and refreshes the human spirit. We doubt if television does much more. Newspaper headlines do nothing to lower the laughter threshold and raise the spirits. According to the prophets of doom we are on the verge of dying laughing if not from laughing. No wonder some bright publicity lad had to dream up "Laugh Week."—Nanton News.

No man ever becomes a Communist until he has given up all hope of ever becoming a Capitalist.

Eastern Arctic Patrol Of 1950

The Eskimos, our most northerly citizens, will be the first Canadians to be tabulated in the decennial 1951 census. Hon. Robert H. Winters, Minister of Resources and Development, has said. Mr. Winters referred to the census in announcing plans for the 1950 Eastern Arctic Patrol which will visit the settlements of Canada's Eastern Arctic. At the various ports of call there are R.C.M.P. detachments, medical centres, government schools, trading posts, weather and radio stations and mission establishments.

This year's cruise, the twenty-eighth expedition, will cover 10,000 miles. It will be the maiden voyage of the C. D. Howe, new Department of Transport vessel, the first large ship built for service in the Eastern Arctic since the loss of the Nascope in 1947, and the latest of several vessels which have carried the Patrol since its inception in 1922. The C. D. Howe, sailing in mid-July, will call at twenty-four ports.

In southern Canada, tabulation of the census will commence in June, 1951, but in the Arctic, the work must be started in January. This year, the members of the Eastern Arctic Patrol will organize plans for the task, which will be carried out under the immediate direction of the R.C.M.P., and which must be completed by ship-time next year.

The Eastern Arctic Patrol presents a fine example of combined operations by government departments. Mr. Winters observed. Six departments of the Government of Canada are taking part in the effort, either by supplying equipment, or by sending representatives on duty such as hydrographic survey, aerial photography, medical services and postal services.

Alex Stevenson, Arctic Division of the Resources and Development Department, who speaks Eskimo, will be officer-in-charge of the expedition. As senior administrative officer, he will be responsible for government inspections and his duties will include those of a justice of the peace, game officer, and officer for Citizenship matters. Assisting the administrative chief will be G. Johnston, Arctic Division. His duties will be largely statistical and will have to do with Family Allowances, Relief, and Old Age Allowances to the Eskimos.

The Patrol will be particularly concerned with Canada's conservation plans in the Arctic. Figures will be collected on kills of whales, walrus, seals, foxes, caribou, wolves, wildlife comprising the Eskimo economy.

Mail for delivery in the Eastern Arctic will be despatched with the Patrol. The volume of mail handled during the expedition is usually about 500 bags and the service is available to the Eskimos, who like to communicate with one another in syllabic script.

The C. D. Howe is equipped with a surgery, dental office, a sick-bay and X-ray apparatus. The Department of Health and Welfare is sending a doctor, a dentist and an X-ray technician. During the voyage it is intended to make their services available to as many native and white residents as possible. In accord with established practice, all personnel of the expedition will be checked up medically before starting, to offset any possibility of contagious disease being carried to the Eskimos. Because they lack immunity, Eskimos are very susceptible to white man's diseases. Some Eskimo families may be moved to areas where they can find a better livelihood, and special facilities have been provided on the C. D. Howe for this purpose.

It is intended to reopen the R. C.M.P. detachment at Craig Harbour, on Ellesmere Island, which has been closed since 1940. This will probably be the furthest north call of the C. D. Howe.

Synopsis Of Traffic Act

A synopsis of general information on the Highway Act of Alberta touches on certain main points.

Rules of the road include the following—Drivers must stop when approaching a portion of a highway dangerous for other vehicles; must not pass vehicles on hills, curves, bridges or approaches except where two or more traffic lanes are provided; must keep to right centre, and before passing a vehicle must sound horn and keep to the left; must not pass another vehicle unless the left side of the highway is free of approaching traffic.

A person riding a bicycle or a slow moving vehicle must keep as near to the right of the highway as possible and no bicyclist or horse or motor cyclist must ride more than two abreast, dropping to single file at the right side of the highway.

When approaching an intersection at the same time as another vehicle, the driver of the vehicle to the right of you has the right-of-way.

Turning into an intersection a driver must when intending to turn right keep to the right curb while approaching and turning; when intending to turn left keep to right of centre; when turning left from a direct line first determine that the movement can be made in safety, and signal the movement so it is visible to other drivers.

When stop signs are designated in urban centres a driver must stop not less than ten feet from the intersection, not more than 50 feet. Drivers entering a highway from private roads or lanes must give right-of-way to other vehicles. Drivers must not pass a standing street car till all passengers are clear.

A driver involved in an accident must remain at or return to the scene of the accident, giving all information required. In accidents of personal injury or damage over $75 the driver must report to the nearest police or if physically incapable arrange for same.

Pedestrians using the highway must walk close to the left edge and drivers approaching or overtaking will pass on the right side of the pedestrian.

Signals

Signals by hand must be given from the left side of the vehicle. An intention to turn to the left is indicated the arm horizontally; to turn to the right by an upward signal; an intention to stop or slow down suddenly is indicated by down dropped arm.

Intoxicating Liquors

Many drivers do not know at what point liquor affects driving. Drunken drivers are automatically imprisoned for a period of at least seven days on conviction and driver's licence suspended for a period of 12 months. Therefore don't carry an open bottle of liquor in your vehicle. Don't drink while driving, or drive while drinking.

Rate of Speed

Maximum speed on a highway is 55 miles per hour, and maximum speed is 45 miles when head lamps are alight. In cities, towns and villages greater speed than 25 miles an hour and 10 miles turning a corner is unreasonable. On any school day speed must not be more than 25 miles per hour in marked school zones.

—High River Times.

Do You Grow Perennial Flowers

Herbaceous perennials are perhaps the most colourful of the flowering plants used by home owners in the beautification of their properties. Many of these perennials have been grown successfully in Southern Alberta for many years.

Peonies, iris (bearded), lilies, and tulips make up the most important groups, though the hardy chrysanthemums and perennial phlox do well in most years. These perennials seem to be able to withstand the rigours of Southern Alberta winters with their drying chinook winds.

Optimum cultural practices are essential to success in growing herbaceous perennials. All require heavy applications of well rotted barnyard manure as a top dressing in the fall. This should be worked into the soil as early in the spring as possible. All these perennials, too, require an abundance of moisture for maximum bloom.

Peonies should be planted in late August or September, and the tubers placed with the crown two inches below the soil level (too deep planting may result in poor blooming). A mulch, applied the first winter, will protect the plants but mulching is not necessary after the first year. To obtain large blooms, remove the side buds when small. Large roots may be divided in the fall into sections having about five eyes each.

Plant iris rhizomes in July or August so that they may become established before winter sets in. Care must be taken not to plant too deeply. Place the rhizomes so that they are just covered with soil. Smaller blooms are a sign of over-crowding, and indicates that the roots should be dug up and divided. Discard the old centre part and plant the young outer portions in fresh soil.

Set out lily bulbs in September or October before the soil freezes. Depth of planting varies for different species. Plant those with basal roots only, four to six inches deep, while those with stem roots (above the bulb) as well as basal roots, from eight to ten inches.

Tulip bulbs should be planted about the same time as lilies and at a depth of from five to seven inches. They will do best in full sun but will tolerate partial shade.

After flowering allow the leaves to die down naturally. It is considered the best practise to dig them up after this time and to keep them in cool storage until fall when they are replanted, but they may be left in the ground.

Numerous varieties of the perennials may be seen in test plots at the Dominion Experimental Station, Lethbridge, Alberta, and anyone interested in information on suitable varieties should write to the Station.

A Self-serve Food Store

... is one in which customers are privileged and even encouraged to leisurely meander all through the store with a basket or stroller cart, to make their own selection of the brand they favor, the grade or size of canned foods required and the quality and quantity of any particular item that pleases their fancy.

This doesn't mean though, that you are expected to serve yourself. If you prefer, your order can be phoned in, or leave it at the counter, and we will be pleased to gather it up for you, and have it ready for you when required, so that you can go about your other business in town.

This is the kind of store we at Economy try to operate. You can either serve yourself, or have us put up your order. By selling for strictly cash, which includes deposit accounts, we can supply your food requirements at about the same prices as those charged by leading city food chain stores. If you compare, you'll find the money you can thus save is really worthwhile.
